

TESTIMONIALS

David, thank you, the floor is gorgeous and we will send you photographs of all of us dancing bare foot on your beautiful slab....it looked like we were dancing on water with the reflection of the lights from above and the subtle modulation of the floor surface...wow

*I wanted to thank you for working with Judy and I on our concrete floors at the house. The end result is what your reps described it would be and the floors look much better than the way they were. Your field guys that did the work were professional and courteous and are a good representation of your company.
Thanks again*

*David-
The floors look amazing. It has been 4 weeks now, and every day I come home from work, I am struck by how much better the whole house looks. The furniture looks better, everything looks new. I really think the finish is better than the day we moved in 6 years ago. Thank you so much for caring enough about the job to find the right way to strip off the old stuff and find a perfect sealant. Any spill (or dog leftover) cleans up perfectly. We have bought a new kitchen table and some new lighting, now that the floor looks great.
Thanks for your hard work and care.*

Riverbed Concrete's commitment to concrete construction goes beyond their beautiful craftsmanship, ingenuity, and creativity. Riverbed Concrete guides the process from beginning to end to ensure long-standing construction for a concrete form, working through support guidelines with carpenters and myself to deliver the best overall product for my clients. As a designer, I appreciate their ability to collaborate on a design to make sure that every piece created is a one of a kind signature item.

Polished concrete surfaces are a new , exciting trend in residential and commercial construction. Concrete is substantial, durable, natural, beautiful and unique, but it also conforms to the increasing market demand for sustainable & environmentally sensitive products. As a general contractor of fine custom homes in the Hill Country, we have found the people and products at Riverbed Concrete to be exceptional with concrete surfaces of all types. The team at Riverbed Concrete is informed and trained in the latest techniques and applications in floors, countertops, integral sinks, tub decks, tiles and more, each with exceptional finishes, colors, shapes and sizes.

I would encourage you to consider concrete in your new project, and when you do, make sure and visit with the people at Riverbed.
